HELLO, I'M SHARPIE!

DaPurpleSharpie can best be described as an avid JACK-OF-ALL-TRADES in the gaming world. She has done commentary, event hosting, official tournament organization, content creation, and has even competed professionally for a time.

Starting with her competitive run in Super Smash Brothers Melee, she quickly found her home in the fighting game community with Skullgirls and grew into a pillar in both the offline and online competitive scenes.

Sharpie has worked with everyone from tournament organizers and game companies to local streamers, meaning she has a plethora of recommendations! All of which can be provided upon written request.
